Target Audience
Obstetricians & Gynecologists, Maternal-Fetal Medicine Specialists, Radiologists, Fellows, Residents, Nurses, Genetics Counselors, Sonographers, and Medical Students

Educational Objectives
At the conclusion of this activity, participants should be better able to:
- Identify normal fetal cardiac anatomy and indications for fetal echocardiography
- Define fetal growth restriction and understand the role of Doppler ultrasound in monitoring of this condition
- Describe the use of ultrasound for the evaluation of pelvic floor disorders
- Evaluate the use of ultrasound for the diagnosis and treatment of uterine fibroids
- List possible medicolegal concerns in the use of ultrasound
- Identify the role of fetal MRI in assessment of fetal anomalies

Sponsor
This symposium is sponsored by the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Wayne State University School of Medicine.

Continuing Medical Education Credit Statement
The Wayne State University School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The Wayne State University School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 15.50 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should only claim the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Applications will be submitted to offer CEUs to Genetic Counselors through the National Society of Genetic Counselors (NSGC), and CMEs to Sonographers through SDMS

Share the Experience!
Would you please pass this brochure, and website: http://obgyn.med.wayne.edu/ultrasound on to anyone on your team that may be interested? We anticipate an amazing conference and a great opportunity to interact with these nationally and internationally renowned speakers on ultrasound in obstetrics and gynecology.
