“Community Resources: It Takes a Village”

Objectives

- 1) Educate community members on Maternal Child Health Programs, a service used to promote healthy births and healthy babies, with a goal to reduce infant mortality.
- 2) Increase awareness of optimal care for pregnant and postpartum people at risk for severe hypertension in pregnancy and develop a referral pathway to coordinate care for birthing persons in need of self-measured blood pressure devices in the home.
- 3) Describe the benefit of the Nurse-Family Partnership program for an expectant parent. Attendees will also recognize what makes an individual eligible for this support and how to refer individuals to this service.
